| Who    | Science Buddies is a non-profit organization that provides online resources for science education, including project idea "Starter Kits" that give K-12 students background information and help on science fair projects. Employees of Science Buddies or Autodesk may not enter the contest.  |
| What   | Entrants must write an original Starter Kit that conforms to our posted specifications at www.sciencebuddies.org . Typically, a Starter Kit is a 3-4 page document that describes a science fair project idea and related scientific and engineering concepts.  |
| How    | Step 1: Your idea must be pre-approved. For approval, e-mail a brief description of your idea to scibuddy@sciencebuddies.org. Step 2: Write your Starter Kit and e-mail the finished document to scibuddy@sciencebuddies.org. This is a contest of skill only, not chance. A single grand prize winner will be chosen by Science Buddies personnel after judging entries against a set of criteria posted at www.sciencebuddies.org. The criteria includes such items as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• appropriateness for the target age group</li> <li>• educational merit</li> <li>• originality</li> </ul> |
| When   | Entries must be received on or before April 30, 2006. The winners of the contest will be announced on our website on or before May 31, 2006.  |
| Prizes | The grand prize winner will receive his or her choice of either Autodesk AutoCAD 2006 or Autodesk 3ds max 8. One 2 nd place winner will receive AutoCAD LT. Six runners up will receive a Logitech BuddyCam 2-Pack of Webcams. Prizes generously donated by Autodesk and Logitech.   |
| Rules  | Plagiarism of any kind will not be tolerated and entries will be vigorously checked for it. All submitted Starter Kits become the property of Science Buddies but authors names will, of course, be displayed within the Starter Kit. Complete rules are available at www.sciencebuddies.org .  |
